

From: Eugene L. Willey
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/8/01 1:34pm
Subject: Government use of Microsoft software

Is it constitutional for our government to allow contractors to supply goods such as software that does not disclose its code to our government. The code for the operating sytems being used by our government will be known only by Mr. Gates. This is dangerous in the extreme. To give a cititzen such extrordinary power is wrong and perhaps criminal Our government is free to use Public software which does not violate any disclosure rules. These comments are meant to be constructive. I hope you will give them some consideration....
Gene (Eugene L. Willey, 314 West 14th Street Hastings, Ne. 68901 (402-463-5121))